

The Department of Statistics, Temple University, invites applications for tenure-track Assistant or possibly Associate Professor positions. We require a Ph.D. in Statistics and an excellent portfolio of statistical research and teaching. Preference will be given for high quality research in emerging statistical areas and/or research involving data mining and statistical modeling, especially as it pertains to financial engineering or biostatistics. Applicants should have a potential for successfully obtaining research funding grants from Federal agencies and a commitment to interdisciplinary work. Compensation will be highly competitive based on rank of appointment.

The Temple Statistics Department has 12 full-time, tenured faculty members and 4 full-time, non-tenure-track faculty. It has a strong Ph.D. program and its faculty are actively involved in research. The Department provides Statistics support to the entire University. Please visit our website for additional information.

<http://www.sbm.temple.edu/dept/statistics/>

Temple University of the Pennsylvania Commonwealth System of Higher Education serves 34,000 students, and is one of the three major state-related, research universities in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia is the fifth largest city in the United States, and is a major cultural center with a high concentration of dining and other attractions, as well as easy international access. It is close to New York and Washington D.C. Housing and living costs in Philadelphia are among the lowest of major US cities. The Philadelphia metropolitan area has a significant presence of pharmaceutical, biotechnology, financial services, and other industries providing opportunities for research interaction and employment.

Applications should include (a) cover letter, (b) full curriculum vitae, and (c) at least three recommendation letters. Kindly submit items electronically to stat@temple.edu and send a hard copy of the materials to:

Chair, Faculty Search Committee
Department of Statistics
Fox School of Business and Management
Temple University
Philadelphia, PA 19122

Temple University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.