

College of Nursing Student Handbook

I understand that as a student at the Medical University of South Carolina College of Nursing, I am expected to be knowledgeable of the policies and procedures set forth in the College of Nursing Student Handbook at all times. It may be necessary for the college to alter program requirements therefore, information contained herein should not be considered to remain valid throughout an entire program of study. Students will be notified of policy changes by email, college news letter (e-Connections), posting in student lounge, College of Nursing website homepage, announced in class by faculty and webCt.
