

SEVERE WEATHER PLAN MUST READ

The Medical University of South Carolina has updated their severe weather plan. The policy can be found at:

<http://www.musc.edu/weatheremergency/> then click on MUSC Severe Weather Plan. It is suggested that all students review the policy so that they are familiar with it regarding school closings, shelters, evacuation routes, etc.

The hurricane evacuation section of the policy states that "MUSC students (undergraduate, graduate, and post doctoral, excluding residents) who are without a safe location to evacuate are responsible for notifying their colleges. Individual colleges will maintain an accurate and all-inclusive list of their students in need of assistance in a weather emergency. It is the students' responsibility to notify their College Deans' Offices in order to be included on this listing. At the announcement of cancelled classes and in the event students are asked to evacuate, these students should report to the Basic Science Building Auditorium to be transported to the nearest shelter. See Appendix B for a list of these shelters. University Risk Management will coordinate with University Transportation Services to satisfy these transportation needs. Once conditions are safe as determined by state and local officials, University Transportation Services will pick up our students from the shelter(s) and transport them back to the Harper Student Center. Students will not be allowed to stay on campus once the decision has been made to evacuate students."
